OVERVIEW

Lorraine is an Associate in WH Burkley's Litigation Department, practicing in the Labor & Employment Group, where she represents businesses and employers in a wide range of employment and commercial litigation matters. Her employment practice focuses on defending employers in arbitration, state and federal court, as well as in front of administrative agencies, in matters involving discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wrongful termination, wage and hour disputes, restrictive covenants, trade secrets and other employment-related claims. She also advises employers on workplace policies, personnel issues, drafting and reviewing handbooks/policies, and compliance with federal and state employment laws, including FLSA, FLMA, ADA, INA, EEO laws, Title VII, ADEA, the Equal Pay Act, FCRA, COBRA, NLRA, OSHA and Ohio Workers' Compensation law.

In addition to her employment practice, she represents clients in a broad range of commercial litigation matters involving contract disputes, business torts, shareholder and partnership disputes, fiduciary duty claims, and other complex business conflicts. She assists clients through every stage of litigation, including case assessment, discovery, motion practice, settlement negotiations, trial preparation, and appeals.
